

The MPA guide to Thesis Proofreading Services

Please note: Proof reading consists of correcting grammatical and spelling errors only. It does not include improvements to the structure and content of the work. You must get written permission to engage an editor (see section 7.1.4. of the Handbook for more details)

The MPA can make no guarantee as to the service provided by proofreaders on this list. Students are welcome to supply feedback (both positive and negative) about their experiences with proofreaders on this list.
